FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Jane Seymour & Free Arts NYC Team Up to Benefit Underprivileged Kids at Artexpo New York, March 25-27 at Pier 94

NEW YORK, (FEBRUARY 15, 2011)—World-renowned actress, artist and author Jane Seymour will collaborate with Free Arts NYC on Saturday, March 26 from 9:00am to 12:00 noon for “Free Arts Saturday,” hosted by Artexpo New York at Pier 94, New York’s famed “Art & Design Pier” on the Hudson.

For 11 years Jane Seymour has exhibited her paintings at Artexpo New York. Now for a second year, she will team up with the local 501c3 Free Arts NYC to inspire local kids to try their hands at mural painting—this time, in the style of Andy Warhol. Canvases will be generously donated by Fredrix® Artist Canvas. Based in mid-town Manhattan, Free Arts NYC provides under-served children and families with a unique combination of educational arts and mentoring programs that help them to foster the self-confidence and resiliency needed to realize their fullest potential. The organization’s theme is “Art Heals. Mentoring Works.”

In keeping with their commitment to give back to the community, Artexpo New York will donate 10 percent of ticket sales from the show to Free Arts NYC, and is encouraging exhibitors to donate 5 percent of the art sales from their booths.

At Artexpo New York, Jane Seymour will exhibit her latest collection of Open Heart-themed watercolors at the Coral Canyon Publishing booth #911 and showcase her recently published book Among Angels (Guideposts, October 2010). This delightful gift book, with a personal foreword and art by Jane Seymour, features literature, spiritual texts, and personal stories that celebrate the importance of human angels all around us. “Human angels inspire us by bringing us peace and tranquility, innocence and joy, hope and love,” she explains.
